

Important to All Women Readers of This Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by parcel post. You can purchase the regular, medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—(Adv.)

POMP AND PAGEANTRY OF WAR FAST DISAPPEARING

Days Passed When "Thin Red Line" Advances With Colors Flying, Bands Playing.

Washington, March 28.—(Correspondence Associated Press.)—The days are gone when a "thin red line," advancing with colors flying and bayonets gleaming, presented the enemy with easy cannon-fodder.

In the first place, the resplendent uniform has been discarded by all belligerents for one of somber, inconspicuous hue. The reason is obvious—the human target is deluged with dangerous discharges when bright colors are worn. For almost the same reason bayonets are no longer burnished. A raiding party lurking in No Man's Land cannot afford to have its presence betrayed by the gleam of light from a star-shell on a polished piece of steel.

Moreover, the regimental standards usually are left at headquarters. A color sergeant probably would find himself in a difficult position if confronted with the necessity of fighting off an enemy and keeping the flag waving at the same time.

A sad feature of the present war is that there will be no "youngest drummer boy." For many years the proud individual who held this distinction in the Civil War has been dying off by the hundreds, so perhaps many post-bellum controversies have been averted by eliminating the picturesque boyish figure.

Bagpipes Only Remain.

The blare of bands usually has been associated with memorable advances of troops, but the musicians now can be convinced very easily that trench concerts might prove unhealthy. There still remains, however, the skirl of the bagpipes.

The general of the lace-embroidered uniform, flowing hat and plumes has passed out with the horsehair sofa period, so far as field service is concerned. In the gloomy corridors of the State, War and Navy building there are on display in glass cases magnificence of the uniforms worn by American soldiers at various periods of the country's history. A continental warrior, clad in a blue coat with buff facings and wearing a perilously-balanced three-cornered hat, compares but poorly in appearance with the efficiency with the trim fighting man of today. The garb of the modern American soldier is developed along strictly utilitarian lines. The dull khaki tone blends into the landscape at a distance and the head-brim campaign hat offers protection from the sun. The "tin hat," or steel helmet, worn in trench warfare, also has been adopted by the expeditionary forces.

The civilian, however, still finds room for mystification in endeavoring to find why the blue-jackets still wear the halo-like hat and broad-bottomed trousers, apparent survivors from the days of the frigate.

No narrative of a heroic charge in waves of bygone days was complete without a picture of an officer leading his men with sword in hand. Now, it isn't done. The man with the sword readily is distinguished by the enemy as an officer—and as such a desirable target for rifle and machine-gun fire.

Days of Other Wars.

In Civil War days, and as recently as the Spanish war, soldiers and officers were represented as gathering nightly about the campfire. In history and fiction, descriptions are not lacking of the anxious officers who studied out plans for the morrow's campaign by the flickering blazes. Campfires in France, if built at all, are located deep in a dug-out, as their presence above ground would serve admirably as a range-finder for the foe's artillery.

But the element of individualism and mass gallantry nevertheless still survives—and to a greater extent. As long as history lives men will remember the stand of the French at Verdun, English tenacity at the Somme, the wild recklessness of the Canadians at Vimy Ridge, the sacrifice of the Anzacs at Gallipoli and the proverbial courage of the Irish who, it is said, charged into a withering fire at Loos kicking a football before them.

The Americans of the expeditionary forces have had their baptism of fire and have not been found wanting. Traditions of a nation are theirs to uphold and to increase.

DISORDERS MARK FIRST DAY OF GENERAL STRIKE

Two Men Shot—Five Laundry Plants Damaged by Mobs in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., March 28.—Disorders in which at least two persons were shot and seriously wounded and five large laundry plants damaged, marked the first day of the general strike in Kansas city, called early yesterday in sympathy with the laundry workers, who have been out for several weeks. The two strikers, both men, were shot by guards who fired from a balcony late in afternoon, throwing bricks and sticks. Both were taken to a hospital.

Union men asserted several thousand men and women obeyed the strike call, seriously crippling several industries. Conferences at which points at issue between employers and employees are being discussed continue. Breweries and several building trades were said to be hardest hit by the general strike. Heat and power to several office buildings and large stores were cut out when employees of a branch of the Kansas City Lighting and Heating company went out.

WARNING AGAINST ATTEMPTED PROFITEERING

Any Attempt at Capitalizing Sacrifices of Others Will Result in Suppression of Private Ownership.

Chicago, March 28.—Warning that attempts at profiteering on the part of private oil interests would result in the government forcing the private owners out of the field, was voiced by M. J. Byrne, president of the Independent Oil Men's association, at the opening session of the annual convention of the Western Oil Jobbers' association.

"Any attempt at capitalizing the sacrifices of others will result in suppression of private ownership by the government," Byrne said.

"If you are guilty of profiteering you will compel the government to force you from the field or to impose laws making the oil industry unprofitable." Byrne proposed that a committee representing oil jobbers be appointed to appeal to the fuel administration, asserting that the winning of the war depends in a way upon oil industry, since the allies are depending on the United States to furnish oil, now that the Rumanian fields have been lost.

POLICE FAIL TO IDENTIFY DUNWOODY BOMBERS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 28.—Although the police and local naval authorities have instituted a systematic search, they were without clues last night to the identity of the two men who threw a bomb into the yard of the Dunwoody institute, which is being used by the government as a naval training school. The bomb which was crudely constructed exploded without material damage to the building. After throwing the explosive, the two men exchanged shots with a guard and escaped in a waiting automobile.

GERMANS PREPARE FOR ATTACK ON ITALIAN FRONT

Embassy at Washington Advised of Daily Arrival of New Divisions of Teutons.

Washington, March 28.—Preparations for a Teutonic offensive on the Italian front continue, the Italian embassy was advised by cable from Rome. New divisions are arriving daily on this front from the Rumanian front and the Austrians have brought up numerous new pieces of heavy artillery. The dispatch says:

"The situation at the Italian front is becoming every day more intense. It appears that the Austro-Hungarian forces are counting upon the success of the German drive in France to discourage the Italians before attempting a new offensive. New divisions are daily being brought to the Italian front from the Rumanian front. Artillery duels are growing in intensity all along the mountain section of the front in Val Lagarina Giudicaria and Astico. The Austrians have numerous pieces of heavy artillery. Great movements of Austro-Hungarian troops are reported by Italian aviators in Val Sugianna. In various ways everything points to a new effort of the enemy to break through the mountains on the Italian front towards the plains.

LONG AMBULANCE TRAINS ON THEIR WAY TO GERMANY

Many Wounded Detained at Namur for Lack of Room in Northern French Hospitals.

Amsterdam, March 28.—Enormously long ambulance trains are passing through Liege and Namur, Belgium, on their way to Aix-La-Chapelle and other parts of Germany with wounded from the French battle front, according to the Telegraaf frontier correspondent. Many of the wounded have been detained at Namur, says the correspondent, who adds that the hospitals in northern France have not sufficient accommodations for the great stream of sufferers.

PERMISSION TO USE GODSOL PAPERS OFFERED BECKER

Man Charged With Embezzlement of Millions From French Government Made Offer.

Washington, March 28.—Frank J. Godsol, the former French soldier, held here on a charge of embezzling millions of dollars from the French government, last night telegraphed Assistant Attorney General New York, an offer to permit the use by Becker of any papers seized in the raid on the offices of the Alliance Motors corporation, and which may indicate that Godsol has committed any crime. Godsol is an official of the Alliance Motors corporation and Mr. Becker announced after the raid that papers seized implicated Godsol in bribery and other alleged crimes.

After the raid Judge Delahanty in New York granted an injunction restraining Mr. Becker from examining the papers. When informed by his counsel of this decision, Godsol sent the telegram to Becker.

NO FURTHER ARRESTS IN KARL MUCK CASE

Boston, March 28.—Reports that another arrest might result from the seizure of papers at the home of Dr. Karl Muck, conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, who is held at the county jail in East Cambridge as an enemy alien, have failed to materialize up to a late hour Wednesday night.

While the musician was spending the day in his cell at the jail, federal officials were making a thorough examination of the papers.

WINSTON-SALEM TO USE UP-TO-DATE BOOKS

Winston-Salem, N. C., March 28.—City school officials announce they are having prepared a text book, consisting of President Wilson's war addresses and the addresses of the leaders of America's allies, together with the best literature obtainable on the war to be used as a supplemental reader in the regular course of study the last two months of school.

The purpose is to instill into the minds of the children the war aims of America.

"IT SURE DOES THE WORK"

Changeable weather and wet feet make March a dangerous month for coughs, cold, croup and whooping cough. Be prepared to get prompt relief. Don't let a cold run into serious sickness. Mrs. W. H. Thornton, 2523 10th St., Little Rock, Ark., writes: "My little boy had a severe attack of croup and I honestly believe he would have died if it had not been for Foley's Honey and Tar. Two doses, and he was better. I would not be without it at any price." Jo Anderson, druggist, Chattanooga, Tenn.—(Adv.)

TEXAS ESTABLISHES TEN- MILE PROHIBITION ZONE

Austin, Tex., March 28.—The fourth special session of the Texas legislature adjourned sine die Wednesday after having enacted a number of important war measures.

Chief among them is that establishing a ten-mile prohibition zone around all military training camps, and factories engaged in making war material. The law is effective April 15, and will banish saloons from a greater part of Texas, including all the larger cities.

Other important measures enacted include a woman suffrage bill, giving women the right to vote in primaries and nominating conventions. The legislature also ratified the federal constitutional prohibition amendment.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—(Adv.)
